6 UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

7 Plaintiff,

8 v.

9 MARLOWE SINGLETON,

10 Defendant.

Case No. 2:20-cr-00030-JAD-BNW

Order Adopting Report and Recommendation for Commitment and Hospitalization Under 18 U.S.C. § 4241(d)

ECF No. 16

11
12 I. Background

13 This case originates out of the Southern District of California (19CR01538-001-BLM).
14 Marlowe Singleton, the defendant in this case, was sentenced on November 5, 2019 to a term of 15 two years' probation for the assault of a federal officer, a violation of 18 U.S.C. § 111(a)(1).
16 (ECF No. 1.) Supervision commenced that same day. (Id.)

17 On November 27, 2019, the United States Probation Office in the Southern District of 18 California filed a petition alleging Ms. Singleton had violated the conditions of probation. (Id.)
19 Specifically, Probation alleges that Ms. Singleton failed to report to the Las Vegas Probation
20 Office. (Id.) A warrant for her arrest issued that same day. (Id.)

21 On December 9, 2019, Ms. Singleton made her initial appearance before this court. At that 22 time, it appeared to this court that Ms. Singleton was suffering from mental health problems.
23 Prior to the hearing, the Office of the Federal Public Defender advised that Ms. Singleton would 24 not allow it to represent her. During the hearing, Ms. Singleton provided responses that were 25 neither responsive nor related to the court's questions. At one point, Ms. Singleton stopped 26 speaking in English and appeared to talk in a language resembling Latin. This court ordered a 27 competency evaluation pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 4241 sua sponte and appointed the Office of the 28

1 Federal Public Defender to represent Ms. Singleton pending and during her competency hearing.
2 (ECF No. 3.)

3 This court received Ms. Singleton's psychiatric report on February 18, 2020 and made it 4 available to the parties. The psychiatric report will be made a part of the record and sealed.

5 On February 21, 2020, this court conducted a competency hearing. (ECF No. 15.) At the 6 hearing, neither party objected to any portion of Ms. Singleton's psychiatric report.

7 During the hearing, Ms. Singleton appeared agitated (interrupting the court multiple times 8 and pounding on the table), was non-responsive to questions, and spoke in an indistinguishable
9 language. She referred to herself as an international judge and doctor, a lieutenant, and the owner
10 of Starbucks.

11 This court asked her whether she understood what caused the Probation Department to 12 allege she had violated the terms of probation. Her response was: "I did turn in my final word; I'll 13 consider this par 6; I was before a federal agent, top-notch, and Probation's administration..."
14 This court also asked Ms. Singleton whether she believed she could talk to her attorney about any 15 potential defenses for the probation revocation hearing. Ms. Singleton responded: "M'am I 16 believe you are behind the bench without security clearance information." Lastly, this court asked 17 whether she understood she had the right to contest the allegations that she had violated 18 probation. Her response was "M'am I told you my rights as Judge 'Evichy' and I understand your 19 paper-work is non-convalescent."

20 Ms. Singleton continued making statements that were unintelligible and interrupting the 21 court. As a result, this court asked that Ms. Singleton be removed from the courtroom and placed 22 in the lock-up area where she would have the ability to listen to the proceedings.

23 The court read into the record the more salient portions of the report and noted, several 24 times, the strong similarities in conduct, behavior and mannerisms observed by the psychiatrist
25 who prepared the report and those exhibited by Ms. Singleton during the hearing. In short, Ms.
26 Singleton was as unwell at her competency hearing today as she was when she made her initial 27 appearance on December 9, 2019. The psychiatric report, prepared by Dr. Nybo, concludes that 28 Ms. Singleton suffers from "Schizoaffective Disorder, Bipolar Type, which would substantially

1 impair her present ability to understand the nature and consequences of the court proceedings
2 brought against her, and substantially impair her ability to assist counsel in her defense.” Dr.
3 Nybo recommended that Ms. Singleton be remanded to a medical facility in an attempt to restore
4 her competency. The government and counsel for the defense agreed with the BOP’s 5 recommendation.

6 This court found Ms. Singleton was not competent and provided the factual basis for that 7 finding on the record. The court explained to the parties that it was this court’s intention to 8 prepare a short Report and Recommendation to expedite the process of getting Ms. Singleton
9 back to a facility where it hopes she will regain competency. The court explained that the Report 10 and Recommendation would simply summarize what was stated in open court. Based on that 11 representation, both the government and counsel for Ms. Singleton stated there would be no 12 objections filed.

13 II. Analysis

14 The treatment of offenders suffering from a mental disease or defect is governed by the 15 Insanity Defense Reform Act of 1984. 18 U.S.C. §§ 4241–48. The Federal Criminal Code
16 establishes a multipart statutory scheme for addressing offenders suffering from a mental disease 17 or defect who have pending federal charges. 18 U.S.C §4241 is triggered once “there is 18 reasonable cause to believe that the defendant may presently be suffering from a mental disease 19 or defect rendering him mentally incompetent to the extent that he is unable to understand the 20 nature and consequences of the proceedings against him or to assist properly in his defense.” It is 21 well settled that the Fifth Amendment prohibits trying a defendant who is mentally incompetent.
22 Cooper v. Oklahoma, 517 U.S. 348, 354 (1996). “A person whose mental condition is such that 23 he lacks the capacity to understand the nature and object of the proceedings against him, to 24 consult with counsel, and to assist in preparing his defense may not be subjected to a trial.” Drope
25 v. Missouri, 420 U.S. 162, 171 (1975). Importantly, 18 U.S.C § 4241 does not exclusively apply 26 to individuals who are facing trial. It also applies “at any time after the commencement of 27 probation or supervised release and prior to the completion of the sentence.” 18 U.S.C § 4241(a).

1 “Competence is defined as the ability to understand the proceedings and to assist counsel
2 in preparing a defense.” Miles v. Stainer, 108 F.3d, 1109, 1112 (9th Cir.1997) (citing Dusky v.
3 United States, 362 U.S. 402 (1960)). The test for determining whether a defendant is competent to 4 stand trial is “whether he has sufficient present ability to consult with his lawyer with a 5 reasonable degree of rational understanding and whether he has a rational as well as factual
6 understanding of the proceedings against him.” Dusky v. United States, 362 U.S. 402, 402 (1960).
7 Similarly, Section 4241(d) establishes a two-part test for competency. A defendant must be able 8 both to understand the nature of the proceedings against him and to assist properly in his defense.
9 18 U.S.C § 4241(d). The defendant’s ability to participate or assist his counsel must be evaluated
10 in light of the type of participation required. United States v. Dreyer, 705 F.3d 951, 961 (9th Cir.
11 2013). For purposes of probation revocation hearings, the test is whether the defendant can 12 understand the nature of the proceedings and participate intelligently to the extent participation is 13 called for. Chavez v. U.S. 656 F.2d 512, 518 (9th Cir. 1981).

14 Based on the observations made in court today, and taking into account Dr. Nybo’s report, 15 Ms. Singleton seems disconnected from reality. By a preponderance of the evidence, this court 16 finds that Ms. Singleton does not have any rational or factual understanding of the nature or 17 consequences of the proceedings against her. Likewise, this court finds by a preponderance of the 18 evidence that Ms. Singleton is unable to assist properly in her defense, as she is not able to 19 consult with her lawyer with any reasonable degree of rational understanding. While this court 20 takes into consideration that Ms. Singleton would not need to participate in a probation revocation 21 hearing to the same extent that she would need to participate in other proceedings, her mental 22 state is such that she is unable to participate at all.

23 Accordingly, IT IS RECOMMENDED that

24 (1) Ms. Singleton is declared to be mentally incompetent to proceed with the probation 25 revocation proceedings in this case and is committed to the custody of the Attorney General of 26 the United States pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 4241.

27 (2) The Attorney General shall, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 4241(d), hospitalize Ms.
28 Singleton for treatment in an appropriate facility for such a reasonable period of time, not to

1 exceed four months, as is necessary to determine whether there is a substantial probability that in 2 the foreseeable future she will attain the capacity to permit the proceedings to go forward; and

3 (3) Forty-five days from today, the Attorney General or his designee shall file a status
4 report indicating whether Ms. Singleton's mental condition has improved.

5 (4) To the extent this request can be accommodated, this court requests that Ms. Singleton 6 be remanded to MCC San Diego, California.
